

Call for Papers

ThaiPOD-National Conference

2011

Professional and Organizational Development Network of Thailand Higher Education 6th Annual National Conference on

Outcome based Education: Progressing towards the 21 Century Quality Graduates

Outcome based education has been one of the most explored topics in higher education recently. Such a new way of designing educational structure and process has brought about the challenges in pursuing for accountability in adequately prepare quality graduates by organizing everything around what is essential for them to excel at the end of their learning experiences. ThaiPod-National Conference 2011 welcomes instructional leaders, academic experts, and researchers in higher education to submit proposals on these special topics related to, but not limited to, outcome based education as followed :

- General Education and soft skill development
- Civic Education
- Competency based learning
- Large class issues and management
- Social Media in higher education
- Fostering lifelong learning culture
- Problem based learning (PBL)
- Student engagement and technology
- Self-directed learning
- Assessment and teaching quality
- Outcome based Curriculum development
- Professional development
- Culture diversity in the classroom
- Peer instruction/learning
- Organization development
- Faculty development
- Extracurricular activities
- Instructional Technology
- Creativity in science and technology education
- Others

Submission Procedures

Prospective authors are invited to submit proposals electronically through the conference website (www.thailandpod.net). All submissions must follow the Submission Guidelines and formatting instructions specified on the website (waiting for the instruction page URL). All proposals will undergo a thorough review process and acceptance of proposals will be based on appropriateness of the topic, quality, novelty and clarity of exposition. Authors of selected proposals will be invited for presentation sessions during the conference dates and will be considered

Important Dates

|                                  |                  |
|----------------------------------|------------------|
| Deadline for Abstract submission | May 31, 2011     |
| Annual Conference                | July 28–29, 2011 |